INSTRUCTING EXHIBIT

Articles Made for Soldiers and Sailors to be Shown in This City Next Week.

A very interesting and instructive exhibit of the kinds o. Red Cross work which are being done by women throughout the country will be held at 530 King street, next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th. Knitted articles such as sweaters, mufflers, helmets, socks, wristlets and trench caps, which are being made for our soldiers will be shown, also the latest surgical dressings, the demand for which is so urgent at present.

In addition to these there will be on exhibition the latest approved models of the hospital garments which the Red Cross Chapters throughout the country are asked to supply. Among them will be hospital bedshirts, bed jackets, bathrobes, convalescent suits, bed socks operating leggings and operating masks.

It is urged that every woman in this community who has not already enrolled herself in the Red Cross work will visit this exhibit and state the kind of work which she would be willing to do either at home or at the work rooms.

If desired, groups of workers might be formed from clubs, church organizations, societies, or other organizations to undertake certain classes of work. Those in charge of the exhibit will be Mrs. Harry B. Caton, director of Womn's Work of the Alexandria Chapter, Mrs. Harry D. Kirk, supervisor of Surgical Dressings, Mrs. John Foster, supervisor of Hospital Garments and Supplies, and Mrs. Dabney Herndon, supervisor of Knitting.

Beginning next Wednesday, November 7, the Chapter workrooms over Burke and Herbert's Bank, will be opened for work on hospital garments and supplies on Wednesday of each week, all day. The workroom for surgical dressing workers will be opened all day on Friday of each week. Organizations or special groups of workers may be accommodated at other times by application to the Director.

A course of instruction consisting of seven lessons in the making of surgical dressings will be given by the Supervisor of that department beginning Thursday, November 15. All those who have not already taken the first course in the making of surgical dressings and who desire to engage in that branch of work are urged to enroll. A small fee of one dollar will be charged for the seven lessons. More trained surgical dressing workers are needed at once as the call from the front for dressings of all kinds is especially urgent. Remember our own boys may soon need them.

Any person having a good sewing machine which is not in use will do a genuine service in lending it to the Red Cross for the workrooms. Please communicate with the director of Woman's Work.

All Red Cross knitters having finished articles on hand please take them to 919 Prince street, on Tuesday, November 6th.

EGGS SOARING UPWARD.

These Essentials to the Holiday Season May be Selling at One Dollar Per Dozen by Christmas.

The first edibles at a Roman banquet were eggs and the last apples; hence the saying "ab ovo ad mala"—from the eggs to the apples. It would be costly at present to place eggs at the head of a menu card, as they were selling at 65 cents per dozen in the Alexandria market this morning. Butter, indispensable to our larders was bringing from 50 to 55 cents per pound, chickens from $1 to $1.25 each, for those of ordinary weight, while ducks sold at the same prices. Sausage meat, which a few years ago brought from 12 to 15 cents per pound, was selling at 40 cents this morning. Scrapple, which in bygone days sold at from 6 to 8 cents per pound, was offered at 20 cents today.

While record prices for sausagement was established in Alexandria this morning, we must remember that the same product brings $2 per pound in Germany today.

SUSPECT'S PAST LIFE

Chamberlain Incurred the Hatred of Western Neighbors by Killing and Dissecting Cattle.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 3.—Dr. Asa W. Chamberlain, former Iowa physician, in jail here accused of the murder of his brother, Judge Albert P. Chamberlain, in Goochland county recently, made a practice during his life out West of killing animals, such as horses, cows, and the like, and then dissecting their carcasses and burying them, according to his nephew, Albert Lee Chamberlain, son of the murdered man, who has just arrived from Iowa to "see that justice is meted out."

Because of this practice, the nephew said, Dr. Chamberlain incurred the hard feelings and ill will of his neighbors.

In event Dr. Chamberlain sets up the plea of insanity, it was regarded today as practically certain that these acts would be cited as evidences of a disordered mind.

A glass eye which was removed from the skull of the victim has not yet been located. Nor has any trace been found of the instrument with which the dismemberment was done.

Dr. Chamberlain was cheered today by news that his young wife who left for the West the day before the tragedy, has reached there safely. It is said that she will return soon to Virginia, to be near him.

KEPT SWEDEN NEUTRAL

She Would Have Fought Had Czar Retained Crown.

Washington, Nov 2.—Whatever military weakness they may have brouht upon Russia temporarily, the revolutionists who overthrow Nicholas Romanoff performed one valuable service to Ally-dom. They kept Sweden from an active pro-German part in the war. Diplomats here are almost unanimous on that.

They say that as pressure increased gradually on all neutrals Sweden finally would have been forced into the war. Anti-Russian feeing, fostered by another Germanic queen, would have led her to the side of the Kaiser.

But when the dynasty which despoiled Finland and coveted a warm-water port such as Sweden might easily supply fell, sentiment shifted. As officials describe the situation now, the court is probably pro-German, although quietly; the Cabinet is less so; and business men and the great masses pro-Ally, although they still nurse their anti-Russianism.

Before the Romanoffs took to tending flower gardens in monasteries all Sweden felt that an Allied victory meant a whetting of suspected Russian appetite for Scandinavian territory. Every Russian move in Poland and Finland was watched with closest anxiety.

The revolutionists' declaration for "no annexations and no indemnities" helped some. Their action giving Poland nationality and dealing generously with Finland, aided far more.

Although a small power, Sweden could give Von Hindenburg 500,000 or 600,000 men in any move on Petrograd. They would be used to winter campaigning.

Sweden claims to be hungry because of the Allied embargo. Possibly this is so. Admittedlyy she has sent much food to Germany, as well as munitions and iron ores from which Germany makes high-grade steel for the finer parts of guns and machinery.

Her mission here asks to be allowed to import 350,000 tons of grain, 100,000 tons of sugar, 200,000 tons of fodder and 100,000 tons of fat. She will not get this while the United States or an Ally can use it.

Recent elections apparently have favored the Allies. Some unfriendly Cabinet forces may be ousted.

BOLIVIA TO DECLARE WAR.

Action is Foreshadowed in Note Sent To Brazil.

La Paz, Bolivia, Nov. 3.—The Bolivian government, in a note acknowledging Brazil's declaration of war against Germany, says: "Our international policy developed conjointly and we consider the situation from the same aspect as Brazil."

This is taken to foreshadow a declaration of war against Germany by Bolivia within the next few days.

Bolivia broke diplomatic relations with Germany April 14, 1917.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

A good big reward will be paid for the return of a lost watch which is advertised for in another column.

The November term of the circuit court for Alexandria will convene on Monday next at ten o'clock, with Judge J. B. T. Thornton presiding.

Captain and Mrs. Hellwege of the local branch of the Salvation Army are planning to give a Thanksgiving dinner to the poor children and their mothers in Alexandria. Any one desiring to assist in this noble work may do so by calling Phone 519.

Louis E. Patterson, aged 23, died this morning at his home, 421 south Pitt street. The deceased was the son of Mrs. Edward J. Patterson. The funeral will be held Monday morning at 9:30 from St. Mary's Catholic church.

"The Devil after Supper," will be the subject upon which Captain Hellwege will speak at the Salvation Army Hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. On Monday night the Washington band of Salvationists will be at the hall with Commandant and Mrs. Bartlett in charge.

The individual lockers in the Alexandria Boat Club house were all broken open sometime night before last. As nothing was stolen in the way of property, it is surmised that the depredators were in search of liquid refreshment and thought that the club house would be a good place to find them, especially during a time of drouth. If such was their object they must have been sadly disappointed, as those acquainted with the officials of the club know full well that liquor is one of the things that is not allowed in the house.

SOUGHT RELATIVES' LIVES

Unfortunate Young Woman Who Spread Poison Sent to Asylum.

Millville, New Jersey, Nov. 3.—A determined attempt to kill her relatives by placing poison tablets in their food has been brought to light, and Miss Emma Levake, 29 years old, was removed to the county hospital pronounced by physicians to be hopelessly insane. Miss Levake resided with her mother, Mrs. Gurdon Levake; her sister, Mrs Joseph Elmer, Mr. Elmer and daughter, Ruth, and John Sunfield, an uncle. For two weeks the family, has been suffering from a strange illness, similar to ptomaine poisoning, but which the physicians have been unable to relieve, and the mother of the young woman almost died.

While visiting her aunt, Mrs. Manliff Branin, in another part of the city yesterday, it is alleged, Miss Levake dropped two tablets in a coffee pot and Mrs. Branin's life was barely saved by the use of a stomach pump. When she offered her uncle a glass of water and insisted that he drink it suspicion was aroused. A test was made and poison was found in the water.

Miss Levake gave no reason for her desire to kill her relatives. Investigation at the various drug stores discloses that she has made many purchases of tablets during the past week.

GERMANS LIE TO CHILDREN.

Make Them Think Red Cross Will Take all Their Bed Linen.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 3.—Foiled in their plans to antagonize citizens against the food pledge campaign, German plotters in this city have resorted to other lies and schemes. The latest of their tricks to become known is to tell persons that the Government intends to seize all of their bed linen to make bandages for the Red Cross. These stories have come to the school teachers from children who have been given food pledge cards to have signed and who report that they have met with opposition in their work because of this story.

BELIEF IN NEAR PEACE.

Germany Making Plans for Future Trade Control as if End of War Were Near.

That recent conference at Berlin, where plans for trade control after the war were seriously discussed, must be regarded as of considerable importance. It is very significant that such a conference should have been called just now at all. The Germans are an extremely forehanded people, as the world knows to its cost. Yet their leaders would not be wasting precious time and energy discussing ways and means for resuming the broken threads of commerce unless there were a reasonable assurance of peace within a fairly short time. Here, then, is another proof of that abiding, unshakable belief in Germany that the war will soon end, which strikes the outsider as such an enigma. For almost a year all Germans, from the Chancellors down, have been talking peace as if peace were only a matter of days; and yet the military and diplomatic situation has not altered in a way to give ground for such confidence. These princes of finance and industry, meeting at Berlin, in their discussions quietly assume a proximate peace, and on the basis of that assumption proceed to lay plans for Germany's commercial future, a future which, they insist, by way, shall not be Government-controlled, but, on the contrary, is to see a return to the old system of free trading without Government interference. In other words, this Berlin conference not only hopes for peace very soon, but it furthermore hopes for peace without state-socialistic regulation.

COUP BY SWEDEN FEARED.

Finlanders Think Alands Will be Seized to Force all Germans.

Petrograd, Nov. 3.—There is unrest in political circles in Helsingfors, according to a dispatch from the Finnish capital, over agitation in the Swedish press over the possibility of the taking by Sweden of the Aland Islands, lest they be captured by Germany. Finnish newspapers declare that in no case will Finland give up the islands which constitute Finland's chief defense.

The Aland Islands are in the Gulf of Bothnia, at the entrance of the Gulf of Finland. The islands are nearer Finland than Sweden. The population consists mostly of Swedes.

SENDS SIX SONS TO WAR.

This Mother of German Birth True to America.

We hear and read much these days of treasonable acts and speech, but little is said of the spirit of patriotism displayed by a large majority of the German-Americans. The following story was told the writer by Mrs. R. J. Johnston, wife of State Representative Johnston, of Humboldt, while at the recent State fair at Des Moines.

Mrs. Johnston was going over to the fair grounds on a street car one morning, and, on the same car was a German woman, who, because of the bustle and throng of the city, appeared to be a bit confused and unable to make the street car conductor understand her questions. Mrs. Johnston finally intervened, saying that if they would permit her to talk to the woman in German they might be able to get somewhere.

This she did, and learned that the German mother was on her way to the fair grounds to visit a son who was a member of the One Hundred and Sixty-eighth Regiment, about to be moved to Long Island. She said that she had four other sons who had enlisted in the regular army, and that the youngest, the sixth son, had been selected.

Mrs. Johnston assured her that she would have no difficulty in obtaining an exemption for her youngest son, as she had already given five boys to the service of the country, and she certainly could get the youngest boy out. To her surprise, the mother replied: "I don't want him out. I want him to go."

DISMANTLED THE BOAT

Launch Sunk Near Notley Hall After Having Everything Removed Therefrom.

W. G. Bourne, of Woodbridge, came to this city yesterday and swore out a search warrant against Lyon and Samuel Thompson and Lew Wilburn, living at 1444 Duke street, he believing that the accoutrement of his gasoline boat had been stolen by these youngsters, or that they had the plunder in their possession. Officers Henderson and Power went to the address, where the boys have an improvised workshop and found the entire outfit of the boat. The propeller, engine, batteries, oars and everything of value had been secreted upon the premises. The engine was found in the ground where it had been buried.

After the removal of everything from the boat, which was robbed in Occoquan Bay, it was brought opposite Notley Hall, near this city, where a hole was broken in the bottom and having been filled with bricks, it was sunk. The stolen articles are valued at about $300.

The accused were taken in custody and an examination of the case was set for this morning, when the prisoners were ordered to be held for the action of the Prince William authorities.

ALEXANDRIA COUNTY SCHOOLS

Normal Graduates Secured to Replace Teachers Who Have Resigned.

Much trouble and confusion has been caused by the teachers from the Washington Normal School resigning to take positions in the city schools, although they have signed contracts to teach in Alexandria county. Withal the school officials have been very fortunate in securing teachers who are full graduates of the State Normal School to fill the vacancies.

Miss Lura Stanford and Miss Ida Beagle, of Mt. Vernon school, have resigned to go in the city schools. Their vacancies have been filled by Miss Sallie Reed, of Martinsville, Va., and Miss Margaret High, of Whitesville, North Carolina. Both teachers being graduates of Farmville State Normal School.

Miss Beulah Jones has been appointed principal of Clarendon school to succeed Mrs. Doxon, who has gone in the city schools.

Miss Estelle Heilman, who is a graduate of West Chester State Normal of Pennsylvania, has been appointed to the sixth grade in Clarendon school. Miss Heilman succeeds Miss Snow, who resigned last week.

Miss Agnes Knightley, of Lowmoor, Va., will take Mrs. Dorsey's place in the Cherrydale school. She is a graduate of Farmville State Normal School. Mrs. Dorsey has gone to the city schools.—County Monitor.

ITALIAN OFFENSIVE

Dispatch From Rome Says Cardona Inflicts Severe Defeat on Teutons. Troops.

Amsterdam, Nov. 3.—An unconfirmed dispatch from Rome late last night stated that the Italian army just below the Carnic Alps has launched a violent counter offensive and inflicted a severe defeat on the Teutons. Between 30,000 and 40,000 Teutons prisoners are reported to have been taken.

London, Nov. 3.—Teutons and Italians are lined up along the Tagliamento, the former on the east bank, the latter on the western shore. A violent criss-cross fire is booming the alternating messages: "We are ready," and "So are we."

Every dispatch from this front which today is the center of the universe indicates that this defiant reciprocal cannonading is ushering in the great battle that has been heralded as "Italy's Marne."

The Italians are reinforced by at least 30,000 French and British troops. Every gun that was saved from the Isonzo debacle has been emplaced on the east bank of the swollen Tagliamento. King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Orlando have arrived at Italian headquarters to witness the great clash if it comes.

CONSERVING FOOD.

Some Suggestions Concerning Fish as a Substitute for Meat.

Added to the enormous consumption of meat in Europe is the submarine menace which has diminished the supply of cargo vessels to such extent that the usual extensive meat trade between Europe and Australia and South America has been almost abated in order to concentrate on the trade with the United States for it is several times the distance to these sources and would require three times the number of ships used in the American trade. This endangers our own supply of meat, for if the heavy domestic consumption is to continue while the fighting men are being provided for, the drain will soon seriously affect our stock. We must conserve now, for after the war we shall be called upon to replenish the stock of the whole earth.

It is the object of this article, therefore, to suggest foods which contain the same nutritive values as meat and are plentiful, in addition. Vegetarians will have no difficulty in conforming to the new order. For others, there are offered a variety of such foods as baked or boiled fish, pea soup, baked beans, cottage cheese and baked eggs.

But it will not be necessary to relinquish the meat habit altogether. Emphasis should be placed on the elimination so far as possible of beef, pork and mutton. Fish is, pound for pound, just as valuable a food as meat. Moreover, "our fish supply feeds itself." We are required to raise acres of grain and give hours of care to fish. And when we show that we are ready to buy them, the fishermen will harvest the crop."

Most housewives know only a dozen fish, the standards—white fish mackerel, sardine, salmon, cod, trout, halibut and a few others. It is natural for them to refuse to purchase other varieties the names of which are unfamiliar. Consequently, there are many kinds which are just as valuable, much cheaper and which can be prepared just as palatably as the more famous species, but which are thrown back into the water by fishermen or discarded in the factories because they will not sell.

Six fish obtainable in Virginia, if the consumer will create the demand, should offer appetizing appeal to the housewife. They are the sea bass, the croaker, porgie, weak fish, shark and sea robin. "Why not have two fish days a week in your town?" Your dealers can get these choice fish. Ask for them. If Friday is a fresh-fish day, why not make Tuesday a salt-fish day?

ENFORCING LIQUOR LAWS.

It was said several years ago that had the provisions of the Byrd liquor law been enforced to the letter, there would have been no real necessity for the Virginia legislature to pass the so-called prohibition law, or, more properly, a law regulating the sale of stimulants.

Legislation looking to the minimizing of troubles arising from the use of liquor has been adopted from time to time by all civilized nations, but people continue to tarry too long with the wine, while others sell liquor, no matter what laws are passed.

In England the liquor traffic laws prohibit the sale of intoxicants after 9:30 in the evening. Both vendor and consumer are penalized and the law is enforced by the infliction of heavy fines.

At Blackpool two men of wealth and social position lost track of the time of day in a discussion of the merits of their motor cars, which were standing outside the inn. Two policemen came in at 10:10 and saw two glasses of liquor standing in front of the motor enthusiasts. The court fined the innkeeper $250 or three months, the barmaid $25 or one month, and the two gentlemen who had ordered drinks after hours $125 or three months apiece, it being their first offense.

As long as there is money in selling liquor contrary to law men will take chances in England as in the United States or elsewhere; but the English plan of severely punishing the consumer as well as the vendor is a strong check on illicit selling, which at least robs drinkers in prohibited hours and places of its convival features. English newspapers give publicity to such cases and violations of the law are not too numerous to mention.

A New York paper suggests that if those who buy and consume liquor in violation of the prohibition laws of half the Union were punished in this way the popularity of prohibition would be tested. In the South prohibition has been enacted for the benefit or discipline of the colored race and the white people seem to get what they want when they want it. The number of men who vote for prohibition and then disregard the law is amusing, but they would see nothing funny in it if the law was enforced as the restrictions on hours of sale are in England. Some State prohibition laws provide penalties for purchase and consumption, but little is heard of their enforcement except on occasional seizure of "wet goods" in transit. Americans are too fond of making laws for the other fellow.

AMERICA'S LIBERTY BELL.

Twenty-two years ago the bell which rang out in Independence Hall in Philadelphia after the Declaration had been read and adopted passed through Alexandria on its way to Richmond where a state fair was being held. Cameron and Fayette streets, where the Washington Southern depot was then located, was densely packed with people awaiting the train from Philadelphia bearing this precious relic of revolutionary days. When the train arrived hundreds pushed and elbowed themselves to get near the bell, which was on a flat car, in charge of the Mayor of Philadelphia, who was accompanied by railroad officials. The Mayor of Alexandria made a short but appropriate speech, in which he said people in every section of the country look upon the Liberty Bell with as much interest as did the ancient Hebrews upon Aaron's rod which budded. The Mayor of Philadelphia responded in a fitting manner, and a few minutes later the train moved on amid the shouts of young and old, male and female.

The Liberty Bell is again in evidence when the United States is called for the third time to defend her principles.

Here are some things about the bell it would be well to cut out and paste in your scrap book: July 4, 1776, the bell was rung for the proclamation of the Declaration of Independence.

October 24, 1781, the bell rang out for the surrender of Cornwallis.

April 16, 1783, it rang out for the proclamation of peace.

September 29, 1824, it rang to welcome Lafayette to the Hall of Independence.

July 4, 1826, it ushered in the year of Jubilee, fiftieth anniversary of the republic.

July 24, 1826, it tolled for the death of Thomas Jefferson.

July 4, 1831, is the last recorded ringing of this famous bell to commemorate the day of independence.

February 22, 1832, is its last recorded ringing to commemorate the birth of Washington.

In the same year it tolled the death of the last survivor of the Declaration, Charles Carroll, of Carrollton.

July 2, 1834, it tolled once more. Lafayette was dead.

July 8, 1835, while being tolled for the death of Chief Justice John Marshall, a crack was developed, starting from the rim and inclining in a right-hand direction toward the crown.

Another attempt was made to ring it on Washington's birthday, February 22, 1843, but the fracture was so much increased that no attempt has ever been made to ring it since. Its voice is now silent, and yet it will ring in the hearts of all patriotic people so long as the name of liberty shall last.

RUSSIA STILL IN THE WAR.

Secretary Lansing has been quick to brand the false impression, gleaned partly from what Kerensky has said and partly from surmise, that Russia is out of the war. Russia is still strictly in it and will continue faithful to its pledges to its Allies and the ideals of democracy and freedom that are at stake. This statement from the man who comes closest to directing the destinies of Russia is merely that on account of the internal stress of the revolution that centers the energies of the nation, Russia cannot be counted upon to do any fighting for some time to come.

As is suggested by the Baltimore American, This means that, using winter as a screen, the Russians will rest from warfare with the Teutons while they seek to set their house in order. By spring they should be in position to give effective assistance, that is if the Allies can supply them with leather boots and money.

Certainly this is something very different from Russia quitting and liberating the German troops it has kept engaged. It still is holding more than a million of the Allies' foes at the Gulf of Riga beside holding captive innumerable Teuton prisoners. Russia at rest during the winter does not mean Russia any less a factor for the war. It does mean a bigger burden upon the United States than if Russia were a full effective.

WHAT FALL OF RIGA MEANS.

The fall of Riga is not an event of great military importance. For over a year Germany has been in a position to take Riga at any time she chose. What has restrained the Germans has been chiefly considerations of a political character. Would a further advance into Russian territory strengthen or weaken the forces of disintegration at work in Russia. We may conclude that Germany has now decided that another blow against Russia might inaugurate the counter-revolution. In the nature of the case, whatever parties are out of power in Russia will make political capital out of a new national defeat. It is at any rate conceivable that under the stimulus of German blows the monarchical party may gain courage to organize an attack upon the revolution. A restored Russian monarchy would mean everything to the German ruling class. It would take the wind out of the sails of the Allies' democratic propaganda. It would revive the old argument that military autocracy is necessary for defense of the German people against an ambitious Russian monarchy. What confronts us now is not only the loss of Russia to the allied cause, but the loss of Russia to democracy. The danger may be obviated, but only if some clear prospect of peace can be offered to revolutionary Russia. An indefinite prolongation of the war after its really essential ends have been attained will cost the western nations lives and treasure; it will cost Russia her hope of freedom.

STERNER MEASURES.

(Philadelphia Record.

We are accustomed to governing ourselves; not to governing others We assume that nearly everybody intends to obey the law, and we are rather indulgent with the occasional offender. We hate to punish anybody.

But when we are at war with a remorseless and unscrupulous enemy we need to arouse ourselves and use the appropriate weapons. The traditional punishment for spies is shooting. We have got to be as stern as the law allows.

At almost the beginning of the war Germany interned British civilians who neglected to get out of the country, or were unable to get out. We have interned no Germans except naval men and a few civilians who have been caught in improper and suspicious actions. England attempted this same good-natured and easy-going way, and suffered from it. Enough Germans in England took advantage of their liberty to make it necessary to intern them on a more liberal scale. We should profit by her experience.

We are getting experinece enough of our own. A dock fire, a warehouse fire and a stockyards fire, all under very suspicious circumstances, should serve to arouse us from our national carelessness. Non-uniformed persons within our lines, who are serving the enemy, are spies, and there is no reason why they should not be tried before a military Court and promptly shot if found guilty. Little attention has been paid to the President's proclamation warning enemy aliens to keep away from the waterfront. On account of recent occurrences an effort is now being made to enforce the law, and 1,000 Germans have been discharged in New York because they were employed on the waterfront. Enough Germans have abused the leniency of the Government to admonish us that leniency is dangerous. We must be stern with enemies that make no effort to conduct themselves porperly. We must intimidate men and women among us who are tempted to serve the German Government. Where evidence of espionage can be obtained the death penalty should be inflicted without much delay.

GERMANY'S ECONOMIC FUTURE

(Omaha Bee.)

Whatever may have been the guiding motive of the German war party three years ago, it is certain that the course of the war has changed its aspect so far as the self-sufficiency of the empire is concerned. Instead of a political question, Germany is now confronted by a most serious economic situation. Mills and factories are idle, not so much because workers are on the firing line as because supplies of raw material have been exhausted. More than this, the matter of supply in the future is to a considerable extent involved. The world's surplus has been heavily drawn upon by other nations and England and the United States now are using all available materials. If peace were declared at once Germany could not return its soldiers to the workships, for it has no raw stuff to work up into manufactures to send abroad. All this must be purchased abroad and the German pre-war system of buying is not likely to avail under new conditions. Its "cartels" will find a new industrial world with which they are strangers and that great strategic organization which gave them such prestige and advantage in 1913, for example will avail them nothing. These facts are understood in Germany and are demanding more thought from the solid men of the country than the political situation.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Confirmation from the German press of individual reports of enteric disorders among the German army and populace was received in Washington yesterday. Germany's war bread is blamed for the trouble. The The Nsueste Nachrichten of Munich publishes the following: "The effect of the war bread is partly to blame for the spread of diseases of the digestive organs. Since the introduction of flour milled to 94 per cent, the bread has contained a quantity of oran which remains in the intestines with injurious results."

In broad daylight, yesterday morning, the Franklin National Bank, of Washington, was roobed of $9,250 John F. Benton, assistant cashier of the bank, reported to the police that the money had been stolen from his window in the bank. The bills taken were nine one-thousand dollar bills, two one-hundred-dollar bills, two twenties and a ten.

Kerensky's criticism of the British navy comes in answer to the persistent British criticism of the Russian army. "Where is the great British fleet, now that the German fleet is out in the Baltic," is a question now widely asked by Russians, according to Kerensky. "Where is the Russian army, now that the Germans are smashing the Italians," is the allied question that has provoked Kerensky's retort.

Reassuring advices of the failure of the plot of Count Luxburg to Germanize the southern provinces of Brazil were received yesterday from the American Ambassador at Rio Janeiro. In Rio Grande de Sul, the province which Luxburg boasted he would "reorganize," a patriotic meeting in Florianopolis on October 28 was followed by the wrecking of the German club.

Dr. Karl Muck conducted the Boston Symphony Orchtstra in the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" in Boston yesterday afternoon. Then he laid down his baton and resigned. The world-famous musician, former leader of the Royal Opera House at Berlin and successor of Nikisch as leader of America's greatest musical organization, laid aside his artistic scruples for a moment to play the national anthem of America. As a subject of the Kaiser his course had been predetermined.

A gigantic pile, which is valued at $3,000, of alcoholic liquors of every description, lies heavily guarded in front of the office of Deputy Sheriff Thomas H. Garrison, of Prince George county, Md., as the result of a drastic enforcement yesterday and last night of the prohibition law of Maryland. Five saloon and road-house keepers figured in yesterday's raids. They were placed under arrest and later released on the payment of a $500 bond each to appear next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock before Justice Alfred D. Bailey, of Bladensburg, Md.

Four girls were slashed and more or less injured on crowded Broadway, New York, yesterday afternoon, and the police, while later arresting a man who confessed to having handled the knife, had much difficulty in restraining an angry throng of men and women who beat the prisoner severely. The prisoner is Antonio Karasinski. The alleged "Ripper's" victims are employed in financial district offices.

"Wholesale row," in Washington, was last night threatened with destruction by fire, when the building occupied by Krey, Price and Company, at 933 Louisiana avenue, burst into flames at 9:15. The fire was subdued, and the loss will reach about $1,500.

By both the Russian Embassy and Secretary Lansing yesterday statements were issued denying that there was any material change in the Russian situation and containing assurance that our Russian ally is in no more serious predicament now than she has been at any time during the last six months.

TARRED AS PRO-GERMAN.

Lansing Man Kidnapped in Auto Tried by White-Robed Band

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 3.—After being given a mock trial at which he was accused of pro-Germanism, William Saier, 56 years old, well-known citizen here, was tarred and feathered last night by a group of more than 25 men clad in white robes.

The police have located several persons who saw the kidnapping but have no clew to the identity of the band. Saier himself refused to make any statement, even to the police.

KILLED IN MOTOR CRASH.

Efficiency Test Ends in Tragedy for Newspapermen.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 3.—Charles P. Steele, aged 36, was killed almost instantly, and W. B. McVicker, 31, was injured, when an automobile in which they were riding collided with an automobile truck at Hulton Bridge, eight miles above Pittsburgh, in the Allegheny Valley, Thursday afternoon.

The two newspaper men were riding in a car driven by C. E. Chalfant, of Detroit, who was making an efficiency test of a new substitute for gasoline.

When the truck crashed into them, Steele and McVicker were thrown out, the truck passing over Steele's body. Chalfant remained in the car, and was slightly injured.

R. B. MOLINEAUX DIES.

Broke Down Mentally After Escaping Electric Chair.

New York, Nov. 3.—Roland B. Molineaux, central figure in a famous murder mystery, which was generally known as the "Molineaux case," nearly twenty years ago died yesterday in a Long Island hospital.

Member of a Brooklyn family of culture and social standing, Molineaux, a son of the late Gen. Molineaux, was arrested after Mrs. Kate Adams had died from drinking poison contained in a headache potion.

It was alleged that the poison was sent in a silver container as a Christmas present by Molineaux to a fellow club member who boarded at Mrs. Adams' home and who was a rival of Molineaux in the courtship of Blanche Chezbrough. Molienaux's arrest caused a sensation and the developments of the mystery attracted country wide attention.

Before Molineaux was brought to trial, in November of 1899, he married Miss Chezbrough. Denying guilt of murder, he was convicted and was sent to the death house at Sing Sing prison. There he spent several years, while eminent counsel conducted a legal battle which ended with his acquittal at a second trial. Subsequently his wife divorced him.

Molineaux suffered a mental breakdown from overwork in writing "The Man Inside," which was produced in 1913 as a play. Failing to show improvement in a sanitarium, he was removed four years ago to the asylum in which he died yesterday morning. His second wife, who was Miss Margaret Connell, and their child were at his side. He was 52 years old.

ANOTHER MUTINY IN FLEET

New Outbreak at Kiel Reported From Amsterdam.

London, Nov. 3.—Three officers and a number of sailors of the German Navy were killed in "another" mutiny at Kiel early in September, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Daily Express, which claims to have authentic details. The outbreak occurred aboard the battleship Kronprinz and Schleswig-Holstein and started when the men revolted against being drafted into the submarine service.

The sailors on the Kronprinz threw Admiral Schmidt overboard and stabbed and threw overboard Lieutenant Raul, the admiral's aid, and another officer. A battle on the ship's deck between the officers and sailors followed. Three officers and a number of sailors were killed. Similar scenes occurred on the Schleswig-Holstein.

Admiral Schmidt was rescued, but it was necessary for him to leave Kiel. All the surviving mutineers were arrested.

The battleship Kronprinz displaces 25,293 tons and was built in 1915. Her complement is 1,150 men. The Schleswig-Holstein was completed in 1906 and measures 13,000 tons. She carries 729 men.

Vice Admiral von Capelle, German minister of marine, announced in the reichstag on October 9 the dishad taken part in a mutinous outcovery of a plot in the German Navy. Dispatches from Amsterdam and London reported that the crews of four battleships of the German fleet had taken part in a mutinous outbreak at Wilhelmshaven. Three of the ringleaders were shot, while heavy sentences were imposed on the others. This outbreak was said to have occurred about six week earlier, or about the first of September.

Samuel G. Johnson, a highly respected citizen of Wytheville, committed suicide Thursday afternoon at his residence by placing the muzzle of a shotgun in his mouth and pulling the trigger with a stick. Mr. Johnson was born in Wytheville and had lived there all his life, having been for years a member of the firm of Foote and Johnson. For the last year he had been in declining health which affected his mind, and the firm was dissolved recently for that reason.

RAID FAMILY LARDERS.

Pose as U. S Agents to Buy up Products Packed by Busy Housewives.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The Food Administration yesterday branded as imposters men in various parts of the country who have attempted to buy home canned products put up by housewives, representing themselves as food administration agents. At the same time the food administration took occasion to deny that the government contemplates commandeering home-canned goods.

The 1917 pack of canned corn will total eleven million cases, the food administration announced yesterday, the largest since 1912. "This large pack," the announcement said, "should place canned corn on the list of food products to be obtained at reasonable prices."

Reports of a shortage of salt in the United States were denounced today by the Food Administration. There is an abundance of salt it was said, to meet every need.

WOULD IMPEACH MAYOR.

Philadelphia Grand Jury Recommends Immediate Action.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—The October grand jury in its final presentment to the county court yesterday recommended that impeachment proceedings be instituted against Mayor Thomas B. Smith, and that William H. Wilson, director of the Department of Public Safety, be summarily dismissed from office.

The action of the grand jury grows out of the Fifth ward political feud in which a policeman was killed. Mayor Smith, several politicians, police officers and alleged imported gunmen are under heavy bail, charged with conspiracy to murder in connection with the killing.

Habeas corpus proceedings to release the mayor and several others from the bonds on the ground of lack of evidence are pending in the county courts.

GERMAN RISING BRAZIL.

All Teutons Dismissed From the Government Service.

Buenos Aires, Nov. 3.—Measures of the most drastic sort have been taken by the authorities in southern Brazil against a threatened uprising of the large German colonies there, according to highly censored news from the region in question today.

The railways are said to be in only partial operation and under military direction.

It is reported all Germans have been dismissed from the government service.

An official statement issued yesterday in Paris says: "Our bombarding squadrons threw down many bombs on the railway station at Mulheim, the aviation grounds at Behlestadt, munitions depots at Reufal and Wepereimthal and the railway station at Thionville. "In reprisal for the bombardments of Dunkirk seventeen of our airplanes dropped 2,500 kilograms (5,500 pounds) of projectiles on the town of Offenburg, in the grand duchy of Baden."

ACCUSER MURDER ACCUSED.

His Story Which Jailed Four Others Aroused Suspicion.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 3.—For the same crime he charged four others with committing, Adam Klimshefski was placed under arrest here. Some time ago Klimshefski created a sensation by declaring that Vincent Szidinski had been murdered during a christening celebration. He gave the police the names of the four alleged slayers and charged that after they had clubbed Szidinski to death, his body was placed on a railroad track to hide the crime.

Later the four suspects were given a hearing in Court on a writ of habeas corpus and were held for the Grand Jury. Klimshefski's story created an element of suspicion, and today a charge of murder was formally lodged against him.

Czechs in Austrain Reichsrath Show Disaffection.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Official cablegrams received here describe a remarkable scene in the Austrian Reichsrath October 27, showing the disaffection of the numerous Czech element, which has given the Austrian Government great concern. The president of the chamber made formal announcement of the great Austro-German victory over the Italians on the Bainsizza Plateau and called for cheers for the Austrian army. Not a single Czech responded, and members of that party set in sullen silence, to the great indignation and dismay of the Germanic elements.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 3.—Col. William Winston Fontaine, attached to the staff's of Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson and General J. E. B. Stuart, during the war between the States, died at his home here yesterday, aged 84.

He was the with Gen. Jackson at the time of his death at Chancellorsville. While on Gen. Stuart's staff he was captured in the Shenandoah valley campaign and served nine months as a prisoner on Johnson Island.

ALASKAN PACKET LOST.

Steamer Al-Ki Grounded Near Juneau in Snowstorm.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 3.—The Alaska packet steamer Al-Ki is a total loss yesterday on Chicagoff Island, near Juneau, Alaska, where she grounded yesterday in a snowstorm, according to reports received today by the Seattle Steamship Company, which owns the vessel.

Passengers, mail and express packages were taken from the Al-Ki last night. The company estimated the boat's value at between $75,000 and $100,000.

MISSING FROM FINLAND.

War and Navy Departments Announce List.

Nine men gave their lives when the transport Finland was stricken by an unseen German submarine as she was returning from foreign waters. The War and Navy Departments last night gave out a list of these casualties. As yet no explanation of how the casualties occurred has been received, and naval authorities are somewhat mystified by the report. The men were of all classes of the service employed on the transport.

Despite the fact that the Finland was enabled to return to a European port under her own steam, five men are reported as "drowned," two as "dead", one as "missing" and one as "probably died from injuries." The report as given out indicates that there are others wounded and possibly others dead.

The men of the various services indicated are not berthed or messed together in any one part of the ship. That a miscellaneous group of this sort should have been the victims is taken to mean that the Finland was struck well forward while a group of these men were possibly lounging on the forcastle.

The explosion must have been of tremendous force to have blown so many men overboard as those listed "drowned." It is believed that much of the forward end of the ship was destroyed by the torpedo. In such a condition the prompt closing of bulkheads would have enabled a lightly loaded vessel, as the Finland undoubtedly was, to return to port.

FLIES TO DYING MOTHER.

Lieut. McCann Takes Seaman on All-Night Trip.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 3.—All is not strictest discipline and lack of human sympathy in the United States navy, as has just been proven by a mercy flight, made by a naval officer and a seaman from Newport News, Va., to Duquoin, Ill., about one thousand miles.

Charles Allen, a seaman, received a message at Newport News that his mother in Duquoin was dying. He appealed to his superior officers. The train service was too uncertain to risk Mr. Allen's getting to his mother promptly, and the officials detailed Lieut. Hansan McCann, of the navy, to carry him to Duquoin in his airplane. The two set forth at half past five o'clock in the afternoon and traveled until 3 o'clock next morning, when Duquoin was raeched. Only one stop was made, that being to procure gasoline. The total distance covered was 1,023 miles.

FIVE SONS IN WAR.

Family of South Carolina's Governor Making Wonderful Record in Backing Uncle Sam.

When a few days ago, John Adgar Manning, scarcely eighteen years of age, cut short his college education to join Battery A. 316 Field Artillery, this made the fifth son of Governor and Mrs. Richard I. Manning of South Carolina to enter the United States army. His next older brother about two years below the age requirements for the draft, is serving as a private. The three other sons of the Governor, Wyndham, Bernard and William, all married, are in the service, two of them sacrificing a handsome salary to volunteer.

And they say this is a Rich Man's War!

The Southern Railway.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The Southern Railway Company disbursed during September, 1917, for labor, material, supplies and other purposes, $6,989,504, of which $5,707,292, or 81.66 per cent was paid to individuals and industries located in the South, this sum being $16,270 in excess of the total moneys contributed by the South for transportation purposes, according to figures announced today by Comptroller A. H. Plant.

For improvements to its roadway and structures, the Southern spent $1,269,889.72 in September, 1917, as against $1,196,553.60 during September, 1916; during the three months ended September 30, $4,271,778.69, as against $3,359,802.95 in 1916.

The answer of Chile to Brazil with regard to Brazil's declaration of war against Germany has been approved by the council of ministers. The reply will be couched in terms of cordial sympathy and acknowledge the weighty reason that prompted Brazil to adopt her attitude.

GLASS BOTTOM BOATS.

Inventor Converts Plaything of Tourists to War Uses.

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 3.—The plaything of tourists is to be made into a deadly war machine. Glass bottom boats, which take thousands of California visitors yearly over the waters of Monterey Bay and Avalon so they can see the marine gardens beneath, are to be used to chase the U-boats from the seas.

This is the information given out by Col. John S. Irby, new surveyor of customs of the port of the San Francisco, who made the disclosure in a recent talk before the Advertising Club of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. Col. Irby said:

"To a Californian, who must be nameless, belongs the credit of devising a glass bottom boat which, it is believed, will be effective against the German submarines. This man has so improved on this type of boat that a diver may not only be seen at great depth directly underneath, but also at a distance on each side and in front and behind."

Col. Irby gathered this information while secretary to Senator Jas. D. Phelan, a position he resigned when appointed surveyor of customs.

WANT TO RAISE $10,000.

United States Marines at Quantico to Hold Banquet at Which Beans and Potatoes Will Figure.

Washington, Nov. 3.—A dish of beans, a "side order" of potatoes, and a cup of coffee, served "a la trench," —$1.50.

That is the complete menu for a "banquet" to be given by United States Marines at their Quantico training camp, near here, during the first week of November. The "banquet" will be prepared on "rolling field kitchens," and the guests, officers, their wives and enlisted men, will dine from the tin mess-gear, used by Marines in the field.

Through this novel affair, the Marines expect to raise over $10,000, and will turn the money over to an established war charity.

FOR CHEAPER FLOUR.

Food Administration Will Reduce Millers' Profit—Buy Direct From Baker.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Blows for cheaper flour and bread will soon be struck by the food administration. Millers' profits, regarded by officials as excessive, are to be cut. Twenty-five per cent of the cost of baker's bread also will be saved consumers who buy direct and eliminate middlemen's profits. Bakers' delivery costs and salesmen's commissions on bread sold through grocers are estimated at 12 per cent alone. The contemplated reduction in millers' profits comes as a surprise. They are at present limited to 25 cents a barrel profit on flour.

The body of an unknown white man, apparently twenty-five years old, and of excellent appearance, was found in the fish nets near Hampton Thursday afternoon. The man succeeded in reaching the nets alive, as his hands were clasped in a death grip over the head lines, while the coroner said from indications the man died from exposure rather than drowning. He wore underwear and sox bearing the name "E L. Tamillo," which was written in indelible ink. The impression is that he fell overboard during the storm of Tuesday from some steamer or launch and died from exposure after hanging on to the fish nets through the cold of the past twenty-four hours.

DIZZY SPELLS

Relieved After Taking Two Bottles Of Cardui, Says Tennessee Lady.

Whitwell, Tenn.—Mrs. G. P. Cartwright, of this place, writes: "About four years ago the dizzy spells got so bad that when I would start to walk I would just pretty near fall. I wasn't past doing my work, but was very much run-down.

I told my husband I thought Cardui would help me, as a lady who lived next door to me had taken a great deal, and told me to try it. This was when we were living in Kentucky.

My husband got me a bottle and I took it according to directions. It helped me so much that he went back and got me another bottle. I got a whole lot better and just quit taking it. I got over the dizzy spells...I took no other medicine at that time nor since for this trouble. No, I've never regretted taking Cardui.

I felt just fine when I finished the second bottle."

Purely vegetable, mild and gentle in its action, Cardui, the woman's tonic, may be the very medicine you need. If you suffer from symptoms of female troubles, give Cardui a trial. All druggists. NC-129

GIRLS SOON TIRE OF HIKING.

Wisconsin Misses Heading for Texas Glad of Arrest in Illinois.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 3.—Maude Bride 18 years old, of Madison, Wis., said she was not going to bobo any more as she sat on the upbolstered seat of a passenger train just leaving for her home recently, in custody of her father. She and Marie Shade, 17 years old, also of Madison, were picked up by the police in Princeville one evening in a stranded condition and lodged in the detention home here.

The two girls set out with $10 earned by Maude in a candy factory to tramp to Waco, Tex., to visit their soldier sweethearts, whose names they gave as Herbert Ward, corporal of Company C of Madison, and Ben Nichelski, a member of the Wisconsin Band. They rode box cars and blind baggage until their money ran out, when they were glad to be picked up, they told the authorities.

Maude's father is just recovering from a broken leg, and he used the money he had laid by to buy his winter coal to come to Peoria for his daughter.

DROP IN CANNED GOODS.

Food Administration Predicts Immediate Fall in Prices as Result of License System.

Washington, Nov. 3.—An immediate drop in prices on canned vegetables was predicted by the food administration Thursday, as a result of the operation of the license system for wholesale dealers. Many canned goods, it was said, were bought by dealers at low prices last spring, and can be sold at less than the present market prices.

Dealers charging more than a reasonable profit are liable to forfeiture of their licenses to do business.

Retailers also will be controlled to an extent. Those charging more than the food administration considers just will find their supplies cut off by wholesalers, who will cease furnishing them with goods.

The food administration Thursday warned dealers who have not applied for license blanks that they will be charged with violations of the food law if they continue to sell goods.

INDIAN WOMAN WINS.

Captures Prize For Good Work in Canning Food and Fruit.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Here you are American women, how is this for a record? Mrs. Harriet Bone Necklace of the Wakpamni district of the Pine Ridge Indian Agency, in South Dakota, was today awarded a prize of $5, and a national certificate of merit by the National Emergency Food Garden Commission for the best canned vegetables grown in a war garden. This contest for which the commission appropriated $5,000, is being carried on in every Indian School in the country as well as at hundreds of state and county fairs and scores of war garden exhibits.

A committee composed of Mrs. W. K. Blish, Mrs. B. E. Dunbar, and Mrs. B. E. Brigance in conjunction with C. L. Ellis, the special Indian Agent in charge, passed upon the exhibits of the many contestants at Pine Ridge. Here is the exhibit made by Mrs. Necklace:

One quart wild plums; one quart green corn; one quart string beans; one quart rhubarb; two quarts garden beets; one quart garden peas; one glass plumb butter; one glass strawberry preserve and one glass Buffalo berry jelly.

The Commission sent 50,000 food conservation manuels on canning and drying into the Indian Schools of the country with the co-operation of Cato Sells, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Mr. Ellis informed the Commission today that Mrs. Necklace grew her own produce and did all the "putting up" herself.

COPIES THE BIBLE BY HAND.

Scotch Presbyterian Traveling Man Finishes a Lengthy Task.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—Hugh Russell, of Notre Dame de Grace, is the reverent possessor of what is one of the most wonderful books in the world. It is a copy of the Bible written entirely in his own hand, and, as now bound, is not larger in size than the old-style family Bible. It is beautifully written, too, bearing evidence in every word of an infinite patience and reverence, recalling the work of a medieval monk. It is a wonderful piece of calligraphy throughout. Russell is very modest about his achievement.

"No, I am not a minister," he said, "I am only an ordinary commercial traveler—a knight of the road—but I was brought up by godly parents, both of them living still in Montreal, and I have love for the Book of Books. People should turn to the Bible today, and maybe my work may help a little bit in that direction. Yes, it is a sadly-neglected book, and some steps should be taken to have more attention paid to the Book of Books, in which this great conflict is assuredly foretold."

Russell, who is a Presbyterian Scotsman, began his work in 1894 and finished it on St. Andrew's Day, November 30, 1916. The work was done in odd moments of leisure, although more than half of it since the present war began. It is written in what Russell himself calls "a peculiar handwritting, almost half printing it."

"It is perfectly legible, and," says Russell, "without making any boast, I would be willing, if I had money, to offer $100 for every error or omission anyone could find in it." There are altogether 1987 pages, the New Testament taking up 471 of these. There are double columns on each page. It was written in sections of 24 pages each.

J. P. Leachman was elected to be the captain of the Home Guard of Manassas on last Saturday evening. A. A. Hooff will be the first lieutenant, and Dr. T. Raymond Ratcliffe the second Leutenant. The Guards will be a county organization only, to do duty within the limits of the county, and will be under the direction of the judge of the Circuit court.

EVER HAVE IT?

If You Have, the Statement of This Alexandria Citizen Will Interest You.

Ever have a "low-down" pain in the back?
In the "small," right over the hips?
That's the home of backache.
If it's caused by weak kidneys,
Use Doan's Kidney Pills.
Alexandria people testify to their worth. Read a case of it:

Mrs. A. Waring, 304 north Patrick St., Alexandria, says: "I suffered awfully from my back and from inflammation of the bladder. I used to be in such misery during those attacks that I had to have injections of morphine to relieve the pain. The pains in the top and back of my head nearly drove me frantic. I could hardly keep from falling. Nothing did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at E. S. Leadbeater and Son's Drug Store. Several boxes of Doan's stopped that awful pain in my back and head and made my kidneys normal."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Waring had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
